What is your level of industry experience?

More than 20 years working on the industry

Where did you receive your training/education?

IPN ESIME Culhuacan (Mexico City)

When did you first become interested in wireless?

During 2000 year, [while] planning and providing help to deploy the first wireless infrastructure for the Four Seasons Hotel in Mexico City

What certifications do you currently hold?

CWNA, CWDP, CWAP, CWSP, and some other from vendors related to wireless and/or Security & Network Access

Why did you choose the CWNE path?

Because I like it and my job duties required this level of expertise

How long have you been involved in the CWNP certification process?

From 2008 working for Xirrus

What was the hardest part of the whole process and how did you overcome it?

Obtain CWNE since my native language is not English, so when I started writing my essays [it] was difficult. I have to try a second chance

What would you say to anyone considering a CWNE designation?

Anything you "suffer" or experience during all the process is worth it

What value will your CWNE provide to you, your clients, and/or your company?

Recognition, prestige, establish communication with colleagues around the world. Learning and fun all the time! More confidence from companies which hired you and customers

To whom would you recommend the CWNE program?

For everyone on IT field that has to be with Wi-Fi access technologies
